HAPPY NEW YEAR

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Wishing you a Happy New Year and a fun year of painting. I hope you had a Merry and enjoyable Christmas. If you missed our Christmas party, you missed an eloquent tea party hosted by Kate and Sheryal. We even had a gentleman appear. He was flirting with all the ladies present. Thank you for the wonderful fun time. We inducted the new (seasoned) officers (I didn't want to say old officers). Thank you, Lois for leading the induction ceremony. Let us have a successful new year with more fun time activities and paint-ins. Last but not least don't forget to bring in a non-perishable food item for our charity.

NEW: Artist of the Month

Beginning in January, Bev Morn will be highlighting an artist each month. She will give a biography of the artist supplemented by books in the library if available or items Bev has to enhance information on the artist. If you paint an item January, February or March of these artists, a prize will be offered.

OUR VICTORIAN CHRISTMAS TEA

"The Elegance and Beauty a Site to Behold, So This Our Story Must Be Told"

The arched entry, adorned with flowers, the tables decorated with flowers, lace, beads, beautiful tea cups and saucers, small plates, elegant pink silverware, charming tea strainers wrapped in a flowery hanky, waiting for each lady to choose her place.

Each lady adorned a beauty of her own, with her dress, hat, parasol, beautiful smile, and sparkling eyes reminded you of the stars in the skies. She felt the grandeur of a Victorian woman.

Miss Kate, our Lady Chair, told about the teas, herbs, and the correct manner of making a pot of tea. As each lady chose a special tea pot, and the tea herbs for her pleasure, with Kate's expertise, ALL OF A SUDDEN "THERE WAS SUCH A CLUSTER" out through the archway, Sir Thomas Twinning did enter, Surprising Miss Kate, "CAUSING A FLUSTER." His smooth and suave demure delighted and excited the ladies. As our Thomas courted Miss Kate!! For an AFTERNOON DATE. He glided past Miss Pat!! to admire her rosy cheeks, suggesting to try rose hips and ginger herbs, glancing and stepping to Miss Sandy!! her lavender scent and sparkling eyes, suggesting she try lavender, chamomile, and cinnamon herbs, Bidding the ladies a casual goodbye, Miss Jody!! Catches his eye!! OH! Me, OH! my, Her fan did so invite, to bid her Good nite!! With his charm and fun, our day had begun.

Our lunch was delightful, the first serving of scones with lemon and raspberry curd, followed with tiny tea sandwiches and to finish with delicious small desserts to top off our palates. Each lady refilling their tea pots with the same or different flavor.

Some games for a challenge to our memory, to mixed up the Day, as Our Christmas Ornament Exchange did spell a smile to each ladies Way.

Fun and Excitement began as each lady called a name to give out Three of Her Favorite Things. OH! How JOYFUL! and FUN!, a way of sharing a part of each of us.

Thank you all that came and helped setup and enjoyed this Wonderfully elegant and fun Victorian Christmas Tea. We love to make this a memorable time, with a Christmas Spirit for our LIBT club. Thank you to our board for all you do to make this a fun and learning, We All Share!!

Merry Christmas and A Blessed New Year To All In Our Club!!!

Love Kate & Sheryal

A HUGE thank you to Kate and Sheryal for all the work they did to make our Christmas party so delightful and full of fun!

PAINT-INS

JANUARY

Lois will be teaching this adorable snowman, Percy and Miss Priss. Be sure to have your surface prepped. Lois will provide the rest of the paints.

FEBRUARY

Sandy will be teaching a memory box. You may do one or both patterns if you like. In January, be sure to get your memory box(es) from Sandy. These will be given to hospitals for those parents who have lost a child. Paints Americana, Country Blue, Light Grey, Dusty Rose, Winter Blue, Lamp Black, Hauser Dark Green, Deep Midnight Blue, Warm White, Hauser Medium Green, True Ochre, Hauser Light Green, Milk Chocolate, Yellow Light, Pansy Lavender, Fawn, Peaches-n-Cream, Honey Brown

BUNNY DESIGN: The box can be base coated in any color you desire. I base coated the lid in winter blue. On the bottom half of the box with country blue and slip slapped it with deep midnight blue and winter blue. The inside and the bottom of the box in deep winter blue. When dry transfer the rocking horse on. Base the horse in light grey. The bunny and the rocker in fawn.

BEAR DESIGN: The box can be base coated in any color you desire. I base coated the lid in true ochre. On the bottom half of the box with milk chocolate and lightly slipped slapped with honey brown. I did the same inside and on the bottom. When dry transfer the rocking horse on. Base the horse in light grey. The bear in honey brown and the rocker in fawn.

Seminar

LIBT is proud to announce we will be hosting a seminar with Kathi Hanson on Saturday and Sunday September 16 & 17, 2017

Below are the two projects we are doing. The cost is $40 each day and will be from 9:30 to 4pm at Granville East Clubhouse. We have members who are willing to have someone spend the night to attend the seminar. We will start sign-ups at our January meeting or you can contact me direct at Bev Morn-Seminar Chair. This is a great way to learn new techniques without the expense of a convention. Kathi is an experienced teacher in pencil, watercolor, and acrylics. She teaches in Las Vegas at the Creative Painting Convention each year and is in the General Pencil booth. Her website is Kathi Hanson .com and she is on Facebook.

Kathy's Bio:

Presently teaching workshops at painting conventions; lecturing art and product education at universities upon request; teaching workshops on pencil art throughout U.S.A. upon request, creating art for publication in magazines; creating monthly free tips and techniques for my website as well as pattern packets, video snippets and industry news updates within site.

I have been teaching workshops around the U.S.A. and Canada for the past seventeen years, and am known for my extensive knowledge of subject matter and unique special effect techniques in multiple mediums. An accomplished artist, I have won several awards for my work, have been published numerous times in national art magazines, had my art featured in "Painters Quick Reference Landscapes" by North Light books and also "Designer Canvases Vol."2", and created an instructional watercolor pencil technique booklet (found in General Pencils #70 Kit) and watercolor pencil technique DVD for General Pencil Company. Am actively designing, publishing, consulting in various aspects of the art industry and recently released for sale three watercolor techniques DVD's, in October 2014 my drawing pencil "Special Effect Techniques" DVD was released.
